From the Vicarage

Dear Friends,

I am sure that I am not the only one who is hoping that by the time you read this letter of mine, we shall be free of snow in the area. Writing on the 18th February, I am told that this is day 64 of the wintry weather, and while the recent days have not been too disrupting, I shall be glad if early March turns out to be the start of Spring, though that may be rather optimistic!

All of the month of March this year is in the season of Lent, and some of you will have started on the suggested readings from the bible that I talked about last month. If you have not had a chance to get hold of the suggested readings, please let me know. In addition, we are marking Lent by holding a series of Lent Lunches, simple meals of soup and bread, on Thursdays during March. The venues for these are as listed elsewhere in the magazine, and I hope that you will want to join us as we visit different parts of the Benefice for these occasions.

There has been a lot of excitement recently in our area about the discovery of the Staffordshire Hoard, that astonishing collection of treasure found in a field in the south of the county, and now on display in Stoke. It seems to give us a small insight into a period of history about which we still know very little, but which was significant in shaping our country in the years before the Norman Conquest of 1066. It is always frustrating for historians when they are short of information, so perhaps this discovery will help to fill in some of the gaps.

The church has the same problem with some of its history from that period. As well as being the season of Lent, in March we remember four great missionary leaders from those early centuries. The Welsh especially celebrate St. David on the 1st, while the Irish make much of St. Patrick on the 17th. Both of them are credited with leading their nation to a Christian faith, though some of the details are sketchy.

Closer to home, we recall St. Chad on the 2nd, and then Cuthbert on the 20th. Recently I was doing some further study in Durham, so I know more about Cuthbert, buried in that cathedral, than I do about Chad, but whatever the details of their lives, we should remain grateful to God for their work in establishing the Christian faith in the North and the Midlands. The Staffordshire Hoard seems to be the result of a battle, and that period of history was a very turbulent time, with rival kings competing for power and land across the Anglo-Saxon kingdoms. Some of the kings were pagans, and some were already Christian, but none of them would have known anything about the Christian faith without the courageous witness of people like Chad, and Aidan, and Cuthbert, who had heard the call of Christ, and travelled around sharing their faith with both kings and common people.

It is good to recall our history, and to remember how our land was privileged to hear the message of God's kingdom coming in and through Jesus. In an age when all too often the news about the church is of decline and struggle rather than growth, perhaps we can be inspired afresh in this season of Lent to remember our history, to praise God for what we have inherited, and to work and pray for a new age of faith and love.

With best wishes to you all,

James Forrester

Your Rural Police News

In a previous article I informed you of the 21 yr old male from Derby arrested for damaging the public toilets in Wetton. He has since apologised and fully paid for the damage. He also received a recordable Police caution which means that should he offend again this matter will be taken into consideration when deciding how to deal with him in the future.

In the latter part of last year we received complaints of persistent anti social behaviour from a household in Longnor. We confronted the suspects and advised them their behaviour was not acceptable and warned them of the consequences. Unfortunately this advice was not heeded and so working closely with our partners in the local authority and housing association a formal warning notice was served.

Further non-compliance meant an application was made to the court for a repossession order which was granted and has now been executed.

The individuals have now moved out of the area.

In a recent joint operation with our partners in the Animal Health Department, we have been investigating the dumping of dead sheep carcasses in the Morridge area. This is not only irresponsible and costly to the tax payer but gives concerns for public health. A 66 year old male from the Leek area was identified as a suspect and has been interviewed after caution at the Police Station. Offenders can face prosecution for a number of different offences. Enquiries are ongoing.

Villagers continue to express concerns over speeding. We have already carried out speed checks this year and plan to carry out more in the future.

Speed checks give us the opportunity to educate drivers to the dangers of speeding along with any other offences which may be committed.

Where appropriate enforcement action will be taken which includes the issuing of endorsable fixed penalty notices or a summons to court.

To help us determine where speed checks are most needed please let us know your views via any of the contact methods shown below.

Please make a note in your diary of the following Police Surgeries;

2pm til 4pm on Monday 29th March at Alstonefield Village Hall

11am til 12pm on Monday 26th April at the Craft Centre, Longnor Square

10am til 12pm on Saturday 15st May at Waterhouses Police Post

If you can suggest and are able to provide a venue which you believe may be beneficial and accessible to the community please get in touch.

A surgery will soon be set up at the school in Warslow. Once the dates are finalised I will let you know.

If you need any advice on Policing issues contact myself Pc Andy Beresford or one of my colleagues at Waterhouses; Pc Brian Millward and PCSO Paul Flowers.

For non-emergency matters contact us on 0300 123 44 55 asking for your local officers.

If I'm not in the office you can leave me a voicemail message. I check this every duty day. You can also email me on andrew.beresford@staffordshire.pnn.police.uk

In the event of an emergency you should always ring 999 and even if there are no Waterhouses officers available there is continual 24 hour cover from one of our neighbouring stations.

In Touch Project

Staffordshire Moorlands CVS has been asked by Health and Social Care to pilot a project in the Dane and Manifold Wards. The In Touch project brings together a package of preventative services available to older people in their own homes. The services will be provided by a number of different organisations such as Beat the Cold, North Staffordshire Home Improvement Agency, Staffordshire Fire and Rescue, North Staffordshire Age Concern and the Financial Assessment and Benefits Team.

For the project to be successful we need to make direct contact with residents in the Dane and Manifold Wards who qualify for the scheme. Residents need to be 60 years and over. I am sure there are many people who would welcome loft insulation, checks on their smoke alarms, electric blankets etc, adaptations to their home. Some residents may not be claiming the appropriate state benefits. Help is at hand for a variety of services.

Prepaid request cards have been circulated to all villages in the Dane and Manifold Wards and are available in village halls or shops where appropriate. Alternatively please give Sheila Allen a call on 01538 398689 or e.mail: sheilaallen@smcvs.co.uk.

We are here to help and provide a friendly service.

Hollinsclough Chapel

I would warmly invite you to come to Hollinsclough at 10.00 - 12.00 on the 4th and 25th March to reflect together on passages in Mark's Gospel which speak of Jesus' journey to the cross. There will be time for quiet and space as well as listening and conversation.

Flash and Longnor First Responders Monthly News

www.falfr.org.uk

Hi Folks, The past month has been quite a busy one with a wide variety of callouts including, inevitably, some caused by the icy conditions. The new system of activating only the nearest on duty vehicle, which is tracked by its radio, means that two, or even on some occasions three, CFR vehicles don't all turn up to a call. It is more sensible, but we do miss the old pagers all the same, even though they had us chasing all over the place!

Donations this month are very gratefully received from: Mrs Jennifer Davies who held a Domino knockout competition at the Rock Inn in memory of Richard Elkes and raised £145, The Butchers Arms at Reapsmoor who had a Bingo Night and raised £104.17 and Michela Griffith's Longnor Calendar made a final total of £163.01. Thank you all very much.

We have a new responder in the group who has successfully completed her initial training and look forward to her becoming fully active very soon. There are only four of us able to respond regularly and six more who do the best they can to fit being on duty around busy lives, so we are very pleased to welcome Sarah and any more who think they could give some time to help their community.

Keep your ears open for news of Emma Wentworth and the London Marathon, she will be looking for some sponsorship and details are on the web site but we will also have some forms. A date for your diaries and another fund raiser: Saturday 8th May at the Winking Man a Hog Roast and music and entertainment with the Houghton Weavers, more details later.

Thank-you to everyone who has already paid their magazine subscription. At the moment there are still a few outstanding. We would be grateful if you could give this to Mavis or any member of the PCC.

In Loving Memory

Mary Bestwick

Family and friends gathered on New Year's Eve, to pay their respects to Mary Bestwick, of Buxton Road, Longnor, who died at Abbey Court care home, Leek, on Tuesday, December 22, aged 86. The funeral service was conducted by the Reverend James Forrester and was followed by interment in the churchyard.

Born Mary Broomhead, at Reapsmoor, on July 16, 1923, she was the eldest of 11 children, nine girls and two boys —all of whom attended school in Longnor.

On leaving school, she went to work for the Johnsons at Heath House Farm, Longnor, and later worked at Harley Grange Farm, Earl Sterndale.

In March 1948, Mary married Matthew Bestwick and they settled at Alstonefield. Their only son, Ronald, was born in 1948 and the family moved to Hartington where they made many friends. Eventually Mary and Matthew retired to Longnor to be closer to the family.

Sadly in 2001, Matthew died, but Mary remained in Longnor and enjoyed trips to Leek as she went shopping with her late sister Norah.

Mary liked walking and cooking. One of her favourite memories was a holiday in North Wales many years ago.

Mary will be sadly missed by her son Ron, his partner Olga, granddaughter Caroline and members of the Broomhead family

News from St Bartholomew's School ...

We missed the February deadline for the magazine due to Miss Coates retiring as she always sent our contributions in for the magazine. Miss Coates retired at Christmas and we wish her all the best for the future. She is missed by the staff and pupils.

We came back to school on the 4th January and due to the very snowy conditions the school closed just for the Tuesday and Wednesday and the following week we were closed on the Monday. The staff struggled through on the other days and school was open as usual. Most of our children live locally and so they didn't have a problem getting into school.

We had a non uniform day on Friday 22nd January for pupils and staff and raised a staggering amount of £116.00 for the Haiti earthquake appeal.

The Juniors took part in a 6 aside football tournament at Leek High School on Wednesday 27th January and although they came last they thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

KS2 children are well into their topic of the Tudors - they are enjoying learning about this exciting period of history - completing research, biographies and art work. KS1 children are busy learning about People who help us - we have had lots of visitors into school to talk about their work. Children have interviewed Rev. Forrester and Mrs Jackie Bills who is a nurse on the accident and emergency unit at North Staffs hospital.

The children are supporting an ex pupil who is serving in Afghanistan with letters and cards.

We are currently preparing for Lent with pancakes and celebrating the Chinese New Year. The snowdrops are beginning to appear and it will soon be time to plant seeds etc. and watch the miracle that is spring unfold before our eyes.

From the Readership

The word 'March' comes from the Roman 'Martius'. This was originally the first month of the Roman calendar and was named after Mars, the god of war. March used to be the first month of our calendar year. We changed to the 'New Style' or 'Gregorian calendar in 1752, and it is only since then when we the year began on 1st January.

Another name for March- The Anglo-Saxons called the month Hlyd monath which means Stormy month, or Hraed monath which means Rugged month.

The March Equinox Explained

The March equinox will occur on March 20 in 2010, marking the beginning of spring in the northern hemisphere and autumn in the southern hemisphere from an astronomical viewpoint.

Twice a year, around March 20 or 21 and September 22 or 23, the sun shines directly on the equator and the length of day and night are nearly equal in all parts of the world. These two days are known as the March (vernal or spring in the northern hemisphere) equinox and the Autumnal equinox.

What does equinox mean?

The word "equinox" derives from the Latin words meaning "equal night" and refers to the time when the sun crosses the equator.
At such times, day and night are everywhere of nearly equal length everywhere in the world.

It is important to note that while the March equinox marks the beginning of spring in the northern hemisphere, it is the start of autumn in many parts of the southern hemisphere.

Nearly Equal?

During the equinox, the length of night and day across the world is nearly, but not entirely, equal. This is because the day is slightly longer in places that are further away from the equator, and because the sun takes longer to rise and set in these locations. Furthermore, the sun takes longer to rise and set farther from the equator because it does not set straight down - it moves in a horizontal direction.

During the March equinox, the length of daylight is about 12 hours and eight to nine minutes in areas that are about 30 degrees north or south of the equator, while areas that are 60 degrees north or south of the equator observe daylight for about 12 hours and 16 minutes. Many regions around the equator have a daylight length about 12 hours and six-and-a-half minutes during the March equinox.

Historical Fact

A Greek astronomer and mathematician named Hipparchus (ca. 190-ca.120 BCE) was attributed by various sources to have discovered the precession of the equinoxes, the slow movement among the stars of the two opposite places where the sun crosses the celestial equator. Hipparchus made observations of the equinox and solstice.

March Equinox across Cultures

In the northern hemisphere the March equinox marks the start of spring and has long been celebrated as a time of rebirth. Many cultures and religions celebrate or observe holidays and festivals around the time of the March equinox, such as the Easter holiday period.

From the Manse

Dear Friends,

I remember a few years ago purchasing a new computer over the phone. The sales assistant asked me, "Do you want wireless?" "What a silly question," I thought. "If I'd wanted a radio, I'd have bought one!" Little did I realise that what I was really being offered a computer which would communicate with the outside world without being connected by wires.

A few weeks ago, visiting Ireland, I took my new laptop computer with me. This one has wireless and in my hotel room I could pick up my emails and reply to them. To my surprise the hotel also provided those old fashioned means of communication, paper and envelopes. I decided to write my brother a chatty letter and posted it (at the high cost of 0.82 euros)

Talking to my brother, Graham, he said how nice it was to get a letter. He hadn't had a hand-written letter for some time. It made us reminisce about the letters both our parents sent us, first when we were away at school and then later in our lives. Sadly, we've thrown many of them away but we still have some of them. Often they contain news, sometimes suggestions or advice (not always welcome at the time!), but always they finished with words of love and care. In a way, our parents still speak to us through them!

This all made me wonder what would have happened if the apostle, Paul, had communicated by email. Would his emails have been opened, glanced at, and then forgotten before their words reached anyone else? If he'd sent a text message in quick response to an urgent enquiry, would it have been noted but soon deleted?

I'm very fond of my lap top and spend more time with it than I do with Caroline! Modern means of communication can be a wonderful way of quickly giving and receiving information. Yet, questions are being raised about the dangers of children and adults living more and more in a "virtual world" and not one in which there is real personal contact whether it is by that hand-written letter or, even better, face to face contact.

Church, the gathering of the people of God, is decidedly low-tec - even in those churches full of modern equipment. It is about people meeting together in an encounter which is both human and divine. In many acts of worship we listen to words from letters written 2,000 years ago. I suspect Paul never imagined that they would have such an enormous readership! Nevertheless, the words he addressed to particular situations in Rome, Corinth and Galatia continue to speak to us.

In one famous letter, Paul reminds us that even more important than our words - whether written on an email, text message or in a letter - is the Spirit within us: "If I speak in the tongues of mortals and of angels, but do not have love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal." (1 Corinthians 13.1)

For Paul, the love of God is revealed most completely in a carpenter who goes the way that leads to a cross, trusting God, even as the darkness surrounds him. Jesus is God's profoundly personal way of communicating with us. He is "the word made flesh". This Lent, on the journey to the cross, we look at him and listen to his words with great care.

Christ's peace be with you. Colin

History Notes

Alstonefield Deanery Magazine

Longnor March, 1920

On February 5th, a happy wedding by licence took place at Longnor Church. Mr. James Cooper (widower of Lower Fold, Hurdsfield, Macclesfield, was the bridegroom, and the bride Miss Sarah Ann Lownds of Booseley Grange Farm. A quiet company assembled, with Mr. William Lownds (brother), Booseley Grange, and Miss Sarah Gould in attendance, the bride being given away by the former. The Vicar performed the ceremony, and on coming from the Church the whole party were according to old custom held up at the Gates as in the old Tollgate Days in Longnor, rather to receive than give, being the recipients of much rice and confetti, ere they passed the barriers to the liberty of a happy espousal. We wish them much happiness and God's blessing in future days.

We regret the loss by death of Mrs. Matthew Mellor, who for a long number of years has been midwife at Longnor. Her Christian example and Christian resignation during 15 weeks in bed was conspicuous. Her memory of the Bible and love for it was an indication of wise, early training. She will be much missed. God has called her to nobler service.
